School Board Meets
To Decide Tax Vote

A forthcoming election for an elementary school district tax increase will be the main item on the agenda at the next regular meeting of the Sierra Madre School Board. At the meeting, which will be on the fourth Monday of the month as usual, this time Jan. 24, the date of the election should be determined along with the amount and duration of the tax period required.

Because school operating expenses have increased yearly, in line with the cost of living, authorities here say that the procedure of remaining on the 95 cent tax rate has been possible only by use of general reserve funds to the point where it now is necessary to create more funds for operating the public school plant.

The much discussed legislation for increased state apportionment, which would have aided in balancing the local school budget, is reported as not having materialized. Therefore, it is said that Sierra Madre School funds are dangerously low while costs continue to rise.

As an example, the sound-proofing and improved lighting of several classrooms in the older building, along with the purchasing of necessary equipment required by the increased enrollments, has been neglected. According to school officials, this tight budgeting cannot continue without seriously lowering the standards of the Sierra Madre educational system.

One of the most important problems facing the School Board is the subject of teachers' salaries.

"In recent years, several superior applicants have been interviewed by the personnel committee, only to be hired by neighboring communities with higher salary schedules," reports Miss Betty Newton, principal of Sierra Madre School, and member of the interviewing committee for several years. "Often it is the case that actual resignations have been received because of teachers accepting better offers of employment."

Personnel of the school is outstanding, according to board members, with fewer teachers on provisional status than in many districts. It is the aim of the board to employ teachers of high professional standards who are interested in children's problems and intent on further improvement of the school community.

Information regarding costs per pupil show Sierra Madre figures to be $250.68 per year, as compared to the county average of $263.23.

Comparison of tax rates show Sierra Madre's Elementary General rate to be $.95. Comparable figures are Azusa, $1.44; Covina, $1.67; Garvey, $1.60; and Pasadena, $1.40.

For unified districts separate elementary figures are not available. Comparisons with unified districts show that Sierra Madre's total for all schools, including indebtedness to the Pasadena District, is $3.13. Arcadia unified is $3.29; Temple City unified, $3.43; and Claremont unified, $3.79.

"Sierra Madre must take a step in the direction set by the surrounding districts, if our relative position in educational matters is to be maintained," says Dr. Milton W. Valois, president of the local board.

As yet, Sierra Madre children are not on double sessions. The recent bond election provided sufficient housing for the near future. Adequate teaching, however, must also be provided as these new rooms accommodate the increasing enrollment.

Time of the School Board meeting Jan. 24 is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. in the Board-Conference room of the Sierra Madre City School, 141 W. Highland Ave.

All meetings are open to the public.

Four $100,000
Races Set at Santa Anita

The three stakes and overnight features at Santa Anita this week will be stepping stones to the four $100,000 racing classics and two $50,000 major handicaps on the schedule for the last half of the season.

Yesterday's $20,000 San Vicente Stakes for three-year-olds at seven furlongs was an important speed test for the $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby that will have its 18th running on Feb. 19.

Saturday's $25,000 San Marcos Handicap on the turf course at 1 1/4 miles, and $20,000 Santa Maria Handicap for fillies and mares at seven furlongs will be the last of the season.

Supervisor Legg Visits
S.M. During Rainstorm

Los Angeles County Supervisor Herbert Legg paid a personal visit to Sierra Madre to check the results of the storm Tuesday and commented on the efficiency of the work done by the U. S. Army and the county flood control service.

"While the job of water protection is not completed for the entire benefit of the foothill community, the program is well advanced," Supervisor Legg said. "I am hopeful that the works already completed will reduce to considerable extent the heavy damage that might have resulted without it."

Ranch School Drive Begins

Beginning Monday, Jan. 24, and continuing through Wednesday, Feb. 9, representatives of the Hastings Ranch Nursery school will solicit subscriptions to the Sierra Madre NEWS. Letters will be sent to residents of the Ranch, Mesa and Riviera, with enclosures for return mail subscriptions.

The nursery school, a non-profit organization which cares for 72 children in the Fellowship Hall of Trinity Presbyterian Church, originally raised some of its funds in May, 1954, in cooperation with the NEWS, and this campaign is a continuation of the project. The school receives no funds from any outside sources, and is dependent entirely upon the support of the community. Cash for operating expenses is urgently needed now. For each new $3 subscription the school receives $1.50, and its treasury is enriched $1.00 on each renewal.

Both readers and advertisers have shown increased interest in the NEWS, and have requested expansion of its circulation, news and advertising space. During 1955 your newspaper will enlarge its coverage of Hastings school, club, social, political and advertising news.

Captains of the subscription drive are Mrs. Robert Prescott, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Harris Robison, Mrs. Joseph Schweppe, Mrs. Howard Hitchcock, Mrs. Joseph Steffens, Mrs. Joseph Phillipson and Mrs. Norman White.

Coordinating Council
Plans Meeting Feb. 1

The executive board of the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council met Monday evening, Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. Edith Dane, president. Mrs. Christianson and Mrs. Twedell also attended, representing the newly appointed Youth Activities Committee.

The agenda for the February meeting was the main topic under discussion. This meeting will be held Tuesday, Feb. 1 in City School cafeteria.

Mr. George Hapgood of the Ground Observer Corps has been asked to attend; also Mr. Harold Stein, owner of the Sierra Madre Theatre.

Mrs. Dane suggested that the Youth Activities Committee make a two-way study: (a) Mrs. Christianson to report on what other communities have done to establish successful Youth Recreation Programs; (b) Mrs. Twedell to investigate the problems and needs of our own community.

Convention for Republican Women

Republican women from Sierra Madre and all sections of Los Angeles county will convene at the Hotel Ambassador next Wednesday, Jan. 26, at 9 a.m. for the 1955 convention of the county federation of Republican Women's Clubs, according to Mrs. Gerald J. Mills, 1771 Oakwood Ave., president of the Arcadia Republican Women's Club Federated which participates in a nationwide organization to which Sierra Madre Republican women belong.

Special guest of honor at the all-day event which begins with registration at 9 a.m. will be Mrs. Gladys Leggett Penland of Berkeley, recently elected 1955-56 president of the California Federation of Republican Women. Mrs. Penland will give a special message to Los Angeles County women in her first official visit through the eight counties of the Southern Division accompanied by Mrs. R. G. Kenyon of San Marino, Southern Division president.

Mrs. Jean W. Fuller, women's director of the Federal Civil Defense Administration and past federation president, will be speaker at the noon luncheon to be held in the Embassy Room at 12:30 o'clock with the subject "Wisdom is Defense."

Jet Pilot from Sierra Madre Makes Heroic Emergency Run

Second Lt. John F. Fergus, Air Force pilot who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Fergus, 230 E. Highland, won applause throughout the East Coast recently when his fast thinking and courageous action saved his life and the price of a costly aircraft.

While on a routine training flight over Alabama, Lt. Fergus and another student pilot, Second Lt. Brooke P. Cottman of Baltimore, Md., were practicing aerobatic maneuvers in a T-33 jet trainer when the aircraft stalled and went into a spin. Lt. Cottman left the plane and opened his parachute just in time to be airborne for one minute before landing.

Lt. Fergus, flying the rear seat, decided to stay with the plane and bring it home — if he could. Leveling off 1000 feet above the ground, he fought the windstream produced by a blown-off canopy and kept his vision with the help of the visor on his helmet.

After making two passes at a nearby airstrip he brought the plane, and himself, to a safe landing.

Lt. Fergus is enrolled in the jet instructor pilot school at Craig Air Force Base, Alabama.

Local Youths Hurt in Automobile Accident

The heavy rains Tuesday were blamed for an automobile accident involving four Sierra Madre youths who later were released from the hospital. Victims of the collision which occurred at 1 p.m. at Colorado and Monte Vista, Arcadia, were Bill Bowling, 17, of 165 N. Sunnyside, Bevan M. Cutler, 15, of 643 Alegria, Danny Morris, 15, of 234 Santa Anita Court, and George Bovier, 14, 702 Alegria.

Rains Bring
New Problem
To Lima Street

During the rainstorms Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday, at which time .64, .08, and 1.70 inches of rain fell, residents on North Lima were especially concerned about their homes. Although the city has provided wooden planks to protect property, many residents are still worried.

Chamber of Commerce Hits
New High at Annual EventProperty Tax Payers Given
New Service

Taxpayers may now file their annual property statements with the deputy assessors who are currently canvassing this area; or if they were not at home when the deputy called, they may file at any one of the 74 branch offices throughout the county, as announced by County Assessor John R. Quinn.

For their convenience a branch office of the County Assessor is located in the Sierra Madre City Hall, 55 W. Sierra Madre Blvd., and will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Tuesdays, starting Jan. 18, to April 19, 1955.

Quinn stated that a doorknob card is left by the deputy assessor at each home when the resident is not in, and this card lists all 74 branches.

Taxpayers also may, when filing their property statements make their annual claims for the veterans or church exemptions at any of these branches. Property statements and claims for the veteran or church exemptions must be filed by the last Monday in May, Mr. Quinn cautioned.

To avoid any possible delays, taxpayers are asked to be sure to bring with them the exact legal descriptions of any real properties owned by them.

Note the new address of the assessor's main office: Washington and Hill County Building, 155 W. Washington Blvd., Los Angeles, 15, California.

Democrats to Meet Monday

The Sierra Madre Democratic Club will hold its first meeting of the year in the Arts Guild studio, 28 Windsor Lane, at 8 o'clock next Monday night.

As there will be no state or national election this year, the club has decided to proceed as a study group, discussing some controversial subject of major interest at each meeting, not from a partisan standpoint but from an individual standpoint.

All interested citizens will be welcomed, no matter what their views on the subjects discussed, and invited to air their arguments, pro or con, the aim being to have real town meeting discussions.

The meeting also will make nominations for club officers for the ensuing year, the desire being to get nominations from the floor rather than from a committee.

Attendance Record Broken at Installation of New Officers

With a record attendance at the Chamber of Commerce meeting at the Woman's Club last Monday evening, Sierra Madre business men and citizens in general proved that the city's Chamber of Commerce is alive and growing and here to stay.

Not only was the enthusiasm convincing, but the attendance of 120 persons who witnessed the installation of new officers was an encouraging contrast to the attendance of 77 last June. The June event followed upon six months of the Chamber's reorganization last January when Anthony Cavalli was named secretary-manager.

Councilman Lorne Pratt, acting as master of ceremonies when the 1955 officers were installed, gave humor to the program when he "fired" the 1954 officers, then introduced Banker Al Morgan, new president of the Chamber, as "the man to whom Sierra Madre owes everything."

Other new officers are James H. Wolfe, vice president; and J. C. McKibben, treasurer. Directors are Don Jackson, Newell Barrett, Mrs. Peggy Lusman, Robert Green, Mrs. Harold Roberts, and Sterling Ripple.

The principal speaker was Rod McLean, vice president in public relations at the Union Bank and Trust Co. of Los Angeles.

New C. of C. President Al Morgan, in accepting his position, congratulated Don Jackson on the accomplishments of the Chamber during Jackson's term of office. Morgan also expressed his thanks to the Christmas Committee, of which Mrs. Roberts was chairman, for its work in creating the Nativity scene in the town square for the Yuletide season; to the Woman's Club for the excellent dinner that was served; and to Mrs. Lusman for decorations and selling the tickets for the occasion. Additional decorations were furnished by Osti's Nursery.

Featured in the entertainment were three accordion solos played by Larry Cavalier.

In his talk, McLean said it is the consensus of opinion of all economic experts that the year 1955 can expect continued prosperity and will show the highest business volume in history. Quoting President Eisenhower, he said also that the country's greatest achievement was that the United States was still at peace.

"We are especially fortunate in California, due to its rapid growth," McLean said. "Kiplinger predicts that this state will be the largest in population in ten more years. At present, the income in Los Angeles, after taxes, is about 20 per cent higher than the national average."

According to McLean, last year's Christmas trade was the largest on record.

Ending his speech on another cheerful note, he quoted from a letter he had received from Sherman Hazeltine, president of the Bank of Arizona: "For those willing to greet each new day with a smile, doing to others as they would be done by, 1955 will exceed all expectations."

LATE BULLETIN

An informal discussion of the proposed new street from Hermosa to Baldwin, half-way between Sierra Madre Blvd. and Esperanza, will be held at the City Hall on Monday, Jan. 24, at 3:30 p.m. Property owners, business men and all interested persons are invited. K. Kallack, representing Gordon Whithall & Associates, who are drafting new zoning plans for the city, will join the discussion group and answer questions.

A copy of the proposed street map may be seen now at City Administrator Bevington's office in the City Hall.

First 1955 Rehearsal Starts
Band Toward Summer Concerts

The Sierra Madre Community Band, consisting of musicians from here and nearby communities, moved into a new schedule last week with its first 1955 rehearsal at City School in preparation for its third series of summer concerts.

One hundred and six musicians, under the direction of Roger Gray, have enrolled in the group. Of these, 51 regularly attend the weekly rehearsals and have participated in the City Park concerts. The band is truly an inter-community affair considering that the players may be of any category, amateur or professional, including business men, housewives, students, teachers, and music lovers in general.

The Sierra Madre Recreation Department, which sponsors the organization, still invites any musician to join who has had at least two years experience in his field. The department reports that all parts of the band, especially the clarinet section, can use more players.

The musicians who are presently active in the project are, from Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch:

Harry Hinshaw, Jeanne La Salle, Sol Bucksbaum, Richard Draeger, Les Monsen, and Rene Thorne.

Members from surrounding areas are: George Barnett, Robert Burman, Bert Carson, Tim DeWeese, David Fithian, Kenneth Hill, A. D. Hoenshel, Donald Longstreth, Mary Overstreet, Natalie Burt, F. C. Taubitz, and Richard Mathison, from Pasadena;

Bill Allen, Janice Chalette, and Dan Waters, from Duarte; Jeanne Baker, O. R. Gustafsson, David Winsemann, from Monrovia;

Perry Bertram, Nina Blethen, George L. Johnson, Gordon L. Modie, from Arcadia; Adele Branch, Edward Lupiani, Edward McLaughlin, and C. F. Miller, from Baldwin Park; Wayne Sherman, and Perry Simmons, from Los Angeles; Naomi Churchill, Ila Greenwell, and Warren Lindgren, from West Covina;

Pete Conn, from Azusa; Jack Collins, from Huntington Park; Emil De Yonker, and Lloyd C. Glick, from Temple City; Alfred Dunn, Arthur W. Johnson, and Ted Randles, from El Monte; George Lucas, from Northridge; Frank McKnight, William Steiner, and Chuck Wackerman, from Alhambra; Joan Morton, from South San Gabriel; Ed Roberts, from San Gabriel; and William Taylor from West Covina.

NOBODY WAS PLAYING A NOTE when this picture was taken, but the musicians and instruments were there (along with too many names for this caption) and the conductor Roger Gray was about to combine them all in the first rehearsal in the 1955 winter program of band practices that will put them in harmony for the third series of "Concerts in the Park" to be played next summer. Beginning as a local project three years ago, sparked by Sierra Madre's Recreation Department, the Community Band is actually an "inter-community" group that draws musicians from many nearby towns and cities. Last summer it showed such improvement and talent for the kind of music most people like to hear that it packed City Park at every engagement.

Among my wife's souvenirs is a sheaf of Sigmund Romberg's music, published in Paris, which he autographed for her some years ago. But, though we didn't say so to Romberg, what most delighted us at the time was not his autograph, but the advertisement, in French, on the back of the sheaf of music, which read:

"Les Arbres," par Oscar Rasbach." That, of course, translates into "Trees," by Oscar Rasbach," and is a reminder that music composed by a Sierra Madren and inspired by Sierra Madre's trees, is loved all over the world.

Oscar Rasbach was a young music teacher here when he read Joyce Kilmer's poem,
"Trees," and wrote Kilmer's widow asking permission to set it to music. It appealed to Oscar because trees had always lent distinction to Sierra Madre.

When California still was part of Mexico, Don Hugo Reid, a Scot who had married an Indian girl trained at San Gabriel Mission, and became a Mexican citizen, secured a land grant to Rancho Santa Anita and built the Adobe beside the natural lake in what now is the Arboretum because of the trees there. Lucky Baldwin, who bought the rancho from him, had three loves—horses, trees and pretty girls—and ordered his ranch hands to spare the trees instead of cutting them down, as most ranchers did. The oaks in the loveliest section of Arcadia and thousands of fine trees in Sierra Madre owe their lives to Lucky Baldwin. N. C. Carter, who bought the townsite of Sierra Madre from Baldwin, also loved trees and set his home at the top of Baldwin avenue among some of the finest of them.

Ever since Explorer Jedediah
Smith camped near the Arboretum lake in 1826, trees have been the great attraction of this area. Let's preserve the tradition which has brought many of our best citizens to us. Plant a tree or two yourself. In this week's NEWS is an article telling what trees can be planted here in January.

Pangborn Preparing Home Buyers' Guide

Beginning early in February Harold Pangborn will provide from his office at Pangborn Realty a new service to prospective buyers and sellers of real estate in Sierra Madre, Hastings Ranch and north Arcadia. He will distribute to persons seeking homes, lots or properties for sale a booklet called the Home Buyers' Guide, which initially will contain about 75 listings, but which will grow as time goes by.

The booklet, a loose leaf arrangement, allows for the deletion of properties sold, and the addition of new items of real estate being offered for sale. The first edition will be ready shortly after Feb. 1.

says librarian Mary Insall.
"My home is in Hollywood, and the most convenient way to get to my office in Los Angeles is by Metro bus.
If I had to drive my own car to work it would cost at least $5 more per week than my bus fares. Outside of business hours, I study piano, and new tape recorder I use in composing with what I save by taking the bus."

"New draperies for my home can be credited to Metro"

So reports bookkeeper Joyce Rosenberger, who travels regularly from her job in Los Angeles to Fullerton.
"According to my figures, I save about $2 daily by riding Metro buses, and eliminating driving costs and park-this amount will equal the price of new drapes, which I think of as a Metro savings bonus."

Vignettes

by Virginia Pittinger

From a small village near Frankfort Hans Rau has come to America to study physics and mathematics for two years and to visit—but not to live during that time—with his sister who is now an American citizen.
Upon completion of his work at Pasadena City college Hans will return to Germany to attend the old university at Marburg. In the opinion of those who know, Hans said, Marburg is more beautiful and romantic than even the Heidelberg of light opera fame.

And someday, when his own education is completed, Hans will follow in his father's footsteps and become a teacher.

This young man, with the ready smile and a fine ability to handle the English language, tells in amazement of the kindnesses he has received at the hands of the people with whom he lives. "They charge me nothing," he said,
"for food and nothing for my room. That is a big thing. But there is more. They are giving me, too, driving lessons so that I shall learn to use the car."

He shook his head in wonder.
"Americans are kind."

Fumie Tateoka, a slim, young teacher from Japan, said the same thing. She had been unsure about her reception in America when she left her home in Kumamoto. She had been unsure, too, about her own feeling toward Americans. But there is no uncertainty now.
"Everyone is very kind," she said. "Kinder than any other people I've ever known."

Considering her uncertainties, Fumie did a brave thing when she came to America. But she felt that, in order to do a really good job of teaching, she needed to study psychology.
And she came here to do it because she felt that this was the place where she could learn the most and study the best.
And she is glad now that she persisted.

Another teacher with a name like music—Tranquilla Falcinella—came from Italy primarily to study English. This vicious Italian girl was born in Chiavenna only 35 miles from St. Moritz. It seems odd that a girl born in the Italian Alps should prefer swimming to skiing—and the Mediterranean to Mont Blanc—but there it is! Like Luis Velasco, the boy from Ecuador, Tran-quilla has a large family to miss—seven brothers and two sisters. But mostly, she con-

STUDENTS FROM FAR COUNTRIES at Pasadena City College who will attend the PTA supper-meeting tonight at Sierra Madre City School are shown with their moderator, Augustin Turner, chairman of the Rotarian International Committee, who stands behind the girls with Hans Rau from Germany. In the front row are Tranquilla Falcinella from Italy, Nora Mokhtarian from Iran, and Fumie Tateoka from Japan. The other member of their panel, not shown in the picture, is Luis Velasco of Ecuador.

fided, she missed her mother and her father.

She plans now to begin a new career on her return to Italy. Because she has a gift for languages—in only six months she has learned to speak English amazingly well —she wants to work for a company with international interests as an interpreter and translator.

And these three, Hans, Fumie and Tranquilla, complete the panel of five students who are going to address the PTA on Thursday, Jan. 20.

They will be presented by a gentleman who is no less interesting than they — Augustin Turner, chairman of the Pasadena Rotarian International Committee. Mr. Turner spent 10 years in Mexico and 32 years in Chile, and he knows the value of a friend in a foreign country. Since his retirement in 1948 he has devoted all of his time to these young people who come to our country to study and to learn. He finds them homes, sees that they develop a satisfactory social life, takes them on trips and tours to places that will help them in their careers or simply add to their knowledge and enjoyment of America.

Someone once said that Mr.
Turner isn't merely the chairman of the International Committee—he IS the Committee!
But Mr. Turner denies that.
Where would he be, he counters, without the transportation, houses, parties, food, time and effort contributed by the rest of the Committee, and, in fact, by all of Pasadena?

It's a lovely question, because the answer is so fine.
For surely in such activity there is enough appreciation and understanding and warmth to encircle not just Augustin Turner and not even just Pasadena, but the entire world as these students return to their own homes and their own jobs in their own countries.

Anoakia Seniors Sponsor Fashion Show January 22

Members of the senior class at Anoakia School for Girls will present a "Colonade of Fashions", and tea party Saturday, Jan. 22, at 2 p.m. around the Dragon Pond and campus.

Those seniors from Sierra Madre who will be models are Cindy Eaton, Norma Hoene-man, and Ann Brandt.

Proceeds from the affair will be used in the publication of the school's yearbook, The Spectator.

DARs Slate Meeting Tonight In Arcadia

The members of the Santa Anita Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will have their fourth meeting of the year in the home of Mrs. Edward Barnes, 415 El Dorado, this evening at 7:30 p.m. Miss Lou Ann Christie, chaplain, will assist as co-hostess.

In the absence of the regent, Mrs. David Wood who is visiting in New York, the vice-regent, Mrs. Robert Gardner, will preside at the business meeting and the election of delegates and alternates to represent the chapter at the State Conference which will be held in San Francisco Feb. 22 through the 25th.

Mrs. George Spragins, program chairman, will present a travelogue, "American Roads". This movie has been obtained through the Ford Foundation and depicts the building of the roads over the past fifty years.

MRS. VALENTINE RADCLIFF TO HAVE ARCADIA VISIT

Mrs. Valentine Radcliff, former Sierra Madre resident who has been making her home in Downey, Calif., for the past three and a half years, has returned to Arcadia for an extended visit.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD K. THAYER, 201 W. Carter, today are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Suzanne, to Walter H. Biely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Biely, 414 Mariposa. Miss Thayer is a student at Pasadena High School and her groom-to-be is an electronic technician employed in Pasadena. Their wedding date has yet to be announced.

MRS. WILLIAM B. WILCOX RETURNS FROM NORTH

Mrs. William B. Wilcox, 530 N. Lima, recently returned from Los Altos, Calif., where she had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. George T. Burns, former Sierra Madre residents. The Burns are the parents of a new daughter, Kelley Ann, born Jan. 9.

Girl Scout News

Girl Scout Troop 20 spent the week end of Jan. 14 camping. The rain which came Saturday night and Sunday did not send the girls hurrying home as they were located in a very pleasant "established camp", the Girl Scout House of Claremont, situated in the foothills north of that city.

The girls who enjoyed this outing were: Susan Berdahl, Cheryl Diddy, Lynne Foster, Susan Haberman, Susan Hersey, Virginia Hippenstiel, Diane Krusch, Donna Mitchell, Betty O'Byrne, Pam Oiler, Edith Smith, Judy Stine, Judy Thompson, Carol Ann Wark, and April Wortham.

Their leaders were Helen Hippenstiel, Olive O'Byrne, Jane Hersey, Evelyn Thompson, and Frances Mitchell. Grace Smith helped with the transportation.

Nurserymen Set January as Time for Treeplanting Binge

Editor's Note: For those Sierra Madreans who, along with Columnist Lee Shippey, would like to see Our Town go on a "tree-planting binge" the following article should be of interest.

Ever think how much a part of daily living trees are? Think of all the songs, poems and expressions in daily conversation that mention or center about trees... All the activities that happen around trees. People picnicking usually look for trees to shelter them. Love strolls under trees. Kids climb and fall out of them. Recently, most homes contained decorated evergreen trees for the holidays.

One of the most pleasing functions of the all-important tree is to provide shade... or in technical terms—excessive temperatures by absorbing the sun's rays. When they become overheated they begin to transpire. Larger trees often transpire moisture equal to 80 gallons of water a day, benefiting both plants and humans. Deciduous trees serve a dual function—in summer they filter the sunlight and cool; in winter their bare branches allow full sunlight and more warmth.

The California Association of Nurserymen reminds shade trees can be obtained from nurseries for planting. There are any number of varieties to be had, either in container or bare root form—as they are usually sold. The California Sycamore is a favorite in valley regions where summer heat is a problem. This tree requires relatively little water and will usually endure extreme winter temperatures. Its canopy of branches may spread to 15 feet in diameter and it is therefore recommended for street plantings or large gardens. Sycamores should be whitewashed each spring as they are susceptible to red spiders and blight.

Goldenrain tree with its open growth ultimately extending from 10 to 20 feet is ideal for suburban shade control. Slow growing it features interesting clusters of bright yellow flowers in late June and July and red berries in the fall.

The Moraine Locust is bringing new acceptance to the Locust name. It is fast growing to 40 to 60 feet and has the beauty of the Honey Locust's finely divided foliage and fall coloring without the Honey's thorns or tough pods. The Moraine Locust does well in all parts of the state.

Washington Thorn is a graceful shade tree with handsome foliage and moderate height that makes it a favorite for restricted areas.

And for quick growth consider the Chinese Elm which is evergreen or deciduous depending on winter temperatures and inheritance. The Evergreen Elm is a very satisfactory shade tree.

There are many more trees to consider for shade: Alder, Ash, Maple, Fruitless Mulberry—all will bring you beauty and comfort.

After you have made your shade tree selections prepare to plant. Your nurseryman can describe the proper methods. In preparing the planting hole be sure to dig it large enough so that all the roots will be accommodated, without crowding. Place the plant at the same depth it was in the nursery; this can be determined by observing the dirt stains on the trunk. Budded trees should be planted so that the bud is at least 2 or 3 inches above the soil level.

Refill the hole with a mixture of peat moss, well-rotted manure and three parts of soil. Settle it well with water before the hole is 2/3 full and tamp down the fill-in so that there are no air pockets.

Following careful planting rules and taking good care of your growing trees will bring gratifying results—a comfortable shade area where you and your family truly can enjoy outdoor living.

The man who makes the best use of his time has most to spare.

Bachwansky Family Has Two Christmases

Two Christmases in one year may sound like a youngster's dream, but if so, it's a dream that comes true every 12 months in the home of Mike Bachwansky, proprietor of Mike's Barber Shop whose residence is 225 N. Sunnyside. That's because the Bachwanskys are Serbs, and the Serbian faith that is Eastern Orthodox has its own calendar that places Christmas on Jan. 7. Because most Serbs in this country also observe the Western custom of celebrating Christmas on Dec. 25, they just naturally have Christmas twice a year.

Among those who attended the Jan. 7 festivities at the Bachwanskys' home were Mr. and Mrs. Peter Bachwansky of Pomona with their two sons, 2-year-old Steven, and Mike, who was born on Serbian Christmas in 1952. Other relatives included a niece from Windsor, Canada.

All told, about 40 guests visited the Bachwanskys, many of them Mike's Masonic brothers, to wish them a second "Merry Christmas!"

Hospital Guild Plans Mass and Breakfast

The members and friends of Santa Teresa Hospital Guild are making plans for a mass, Sunday, Jan. 23, at 9 a.m., which will be followed by a breakfast served by the Carmelite Sisters, assisted by the newly organized chapter of the Junior Catholic Daughters of Pasadena.

Rev. Mother Maria Marguerita, mother provincial, will be in attendance to greet the guests. Anyone wishing further information or reservations may call Mrs. Arthur Preter, president of the Guild, at SYcamore 6-3902, not later than Friday, Jan. 21.

Among those Sierra Madreans who are members of the Hospital Guild Board are Mrs. W. R. Sidenfaden, Mrs. Leslie Webster, Mrs. John T. Cassazza, and Mrs. William F. Maloney.

APPLICATION

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL FOR INCREASE IN GAS RATES

SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA hereby gives notice that a Second Supplemental Application to Application No. 35742 was filed with the California Public Utilities Commission on January 14, 1955, requesting authorization to increase the charges for gas service supplied firm customers. The amount of additional annual gross revenue sought is approximately $2,365,000, which amount is equal to the increased cost of natural gas purchased from El Paso Natural Gas Company, based on estimated 1955 volumes. The increase is contingent upon the price of gas purchased from the latter company and is subject to possible refund. The dollar and percentage effect of the proposed rate changes is as follows:

Class of Service	Approximate Annual Increase	Percentage Increase
Firm Residential Gas Service	$1,445,000	3.9%
San Diego Gas & Electric Co. Service	920,000	11.4%
Total	$2,365,000	5.3%

The State, Counties and Municipal Corporations which may be interested in the above Application will be furnished with a copy thereof upon request made to Southern Counties Gas Company of California, Box 2736, Terminal Annex, Los Angeles 54, California.

This notice is given in accordance with the requirements of Rule 24 of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. SOUTHERN COUNTIES GAS COMPANY OF CALIFORNIA BY GUY W. WADSWORTH, JR., PRESIDENT.

Advice Given To Mountain Vacationers

Driving to the mountains and snow?

The California Highway Patrol admonishes you to be prepared to cope with the additional hazards of icy roadways and heavy snow.

"A set of skid chains in good condition, a shovel, and extra caution are all necessary for safety," declared Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell. "Pack the chains and shovel where they can be easily reached when you arrive in the snow country."

"Caution is vital, for icy pavements are treacherous and can slip you into accident trouble quickly. Caution in the snow means alertness for icy spots on an otherwise clear pavement and a speed that is in accordance with such conditions."

"It also means being on the lookout for the chain control signs either advising or requiring them. The smart driver will always heed the 'chains advisable' sign and install them before proceeding," Caldwell continued. "It is quite probable you will find another sign a few miles up the road requiring chains. This will be the end of the road unless your car is equipped with chains."

"Drivers should remember that, even with tire chains, automobiles are difficult to control if operated at unreasonable speeds. Enjoy your drive to the mountains this winter but remember, driving conditions are not like those you are accustomed to in the valleys," he concluded.

Funeral Services for William E. Stevenson

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at Forest Lawn, Glendale, for William J. Stevenson, former resident of Pasadena for many years, who was the father of William E. Stevenson, Sierra Madre resident at 179 N. Lima. The senior Stevenson died Jan. 13 at the Sierra Madre hospital.

Other survivors are his widow, Beatrice, and two daughters, Mrs. Florence Moffat and Mrs. Beatrice Norvell.

A man's character can be judged by the elevation of his head.

Oriental Tea Party For Woman's Club

The Sierra Madre Woman's Club members will have their regular monthly tea meeting Wednesday, Jan. 26, at 2 p.m. in the clubhouse.

Following a business meeting presided over by the president, Mrs. Edward R. Halperin, the program chairman, Mrs. Al L. Pruitt, will introduce Mrs. Clarence C. Kott, executive secretary of the Narcotic Education Service, Southern California Branch, who will speak on the subject: "Current Narcotic Problems and Their Solutions."

Annual Event at Bethany Tomorrow

The annual business meeting of Bethany Church will be held tomorrow in Fellowship hall at the church. There will be a pot-luck supper at 6:30 p.m.

This meeting will consist of the reports for the calendar year 1954 from all the organizations of the church. Dr. Schaper, pastor, has announced that he will not only point out the significant advances made but also discuss the plans for 1955, including the schedule for the building program. It is expected that these reports will show that Bethany church has had the greatest year in its entire history in each department.

Eternal Drama Described by Rev. H. Leach

Taking as his text "The Mountain of the Lord," Rev. Harry P. Leach of the First Congregational Church, spoke Sunday in preparation for the observance of the Lord's Supper, on the external drama of God's gift of Himself to man. Said Mr. Leach, "this profound truth of Calvary is to be accepted, not analyzed; believed, not argued."

Speaking of the finiteness of man compared with the infinitude of God, the preacher told of the vastness of the universe, the endlessness of space and by contrast how small and insignificant is man. Dwelling on the seeming infinity and endlessness of the great plains and the mighty oceans, Mr. Leach told of the awe that is inspired by such mighty works of creation and especially the great mountains that lift our eyes from the horizontal to the vertical.

"Mountain tops have created in men a desire for worship," said Mr. Leach. He went on to tell how men place crosses, shrines and other symbols of worship on mountain peaks and in mountain passes. "Perhaps," said the preacher, "because men feel that in high places, away from the noise of city streets, God is nearer to man and man nearer to God."

In the religious life of Israel, mountains have played an important part. Sinai, where Moses received the law; Ararat, upon which the ark rested; Pisgah, from which Moses viewed the promised land; Carmel, the scene of Elijah's contest with the prophets of Baal; Hermon, where our Lord was Transfigured, and Calvary upon which our Lord was Crucified. Perhaps for Christians the hill called Calvary is the most important spot on this sphere.

Continuing his theme, Mr. Leach pointed out that we are earth-bound creatures who live largely to satisfy our earthly comforts and appetites.

"What claim can we have for an eternity with God and Christ our Saviour? Will our little moralities and feeble attempts at good works merit the gift of eternal life? The Bible does not say so. We are recipients of God's gift of His Son, if we receive Him in our hearts, then eternal life is already ours."

St. Rita Women to Gather at Retreat

Ladies of St. Rita's parish are sponsoring their annual week-end retreat to be held at the Retreat House of the Sacred Heart, 920 East Alhambra Rd., Alhambra. The retreat will open Jan. 21 at 7:30 p.m. and will close Jan. 23 at 4 p.m. Retreat master will be Father Kent, C.P.

An invitation is extended to non-Catholics and all interested persons to take part in this retreat. For further information and reservations call Mrs. James Burke, Custer 5-1720.

Raynor Smith Subject to Be "Attention!"

"Attention, Please!" will be the topic on which Rev. Raynor Smith will preach at the Methodist Church on Sunday, Jan. 23.

Worship services are held at both 9:30 and 11 a.m. There will be a children's sermon at the first service entitled, "Useless As a Wild Elephant." The church choir will bring special music at the second service. Child care is provided at both services. Church school classes for children of all ages are held at 9:30 a.m. each Sunday morning.

"Pictorial America" will be an interesting program at the regular monthly Family Night program on Thursday evening, Jan. 27. There will be a covered dish supper at 6:30 p.m. Those planning to attend are requested to contact either Mrs. Herbert Bauer or Mrs. Raynor Smith for their menu item. Each family is also requested to bring its own table service. Following the evening meal, Mr. O. L. Merrihew of Pasadena will show kodachrome pictures of scenic western places. All friends and members of the church and their families are invited to attend this evening of fellowship on Jan. 27 at 6:30 o'clock.

The building committee of the Methodist Church, at its meeting Sunday evening, Jan. 16, gave tentative approval to the "Master Plan" for the church development program. The plans and sketches were submitted by Mr. Edwin Westberg, architect, and were received with enthusiastic appreciation. They will be presented to the membership of the church at the next regular business meeting on February 3.

If approved by the official board at this time, the sketch of the proposed church edifice will be developed into working drawings as the first step in the development program for the church site.

THE ENGAGEMENT of Barbara Hensley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin J. Hensley of Pasadena, and Carlton Burlison, son of Rev. and Mrs. Orian G. Burlison of Sierra Madre has been announced. The wedding date is set for Aug. 12.

Consero to Meet at McKesson Home Jan. 25

The Consero, a section of the Sierra Madre Congregational Church Women's Fellowship, will hold its first meeting of the new year at the home of Mrs. Robert S. McKesson, 254 N. Baldwin Ave., on Jan. 25. The meeting starts at 8 p.m.

Principle feature of the evening will be a showing of a film with commentary by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Johnson, depicting their work in Palestine and Jordan. Their work with the American Friends Service Committee in North Africa covers land reclamation and rehabilitation.

The Paul Johnsons were former Sierra Madreans before joining the Friends Service Committee. They are now in Palestine. Mrs. Robert S. McKesson is treasurer of the Women's Fellowship.

Special Series of Sermons at Bethany

Dr. Robert Schaper, pastor of Bethany church, has begun a series of special Sunday night messages on the subject "Lost Books of the Bible". This is a series on the Minor Prophets of the Old Testament. Dr. Schaper described these books as "packed with some of the greatest drama and literature of history" and has indicated his purpose of making the men and their messages live again for modern times and its problems.

93 St. Rita Members Attend Guild Meeting With Father O'Malley

St. Rita's Guild held its regular luncheon meeting recently, with an attendance of approximately 93 members. Third grade mothers won the attendance award, a beautiful hat donated and custom-made by Mrs. James Doyle. A delicious luncheon was served by the fourth grade mothers, with Mrs. Robert Tailliac and Mrs. Andrew Papac in charge.

Mrs. Anthony Merten, ways and means chairman, announced that plans are being made for a spring dance to be held on Feb. 19 at The Terrace in West Arcadia.

The Rev. Thomas O'Malley, pastor of St. Rita's church, gave an interesting and informative talk on a Zucchetto which was on display during the afternoon. One of the members of the parish is fortunate enough to be the possessor of this Zucchetto, which is a skull cap worn by Pope Pius XII on one of his last public appearances in St. Peter's Cathedral last summer.

Father O'Malley told the manner in which the Holy Father is elected. In the early days when the Pope died, the election of his successor was not as complicated as it is now. Towards the end of the thirteenth century, after passing through various stages of development, certain rules and regulations were drawn up by Pope Gregory X. These are still used with some revisions and modifications.

Now, when a new Pope is to be chosen, all the Cardinals throughout the world are requested to be in Rome within 15 days. When they arrive at the Vatican they are enclosed behind locked doors for deliberation. The rooms for this Conclave are adjacent to the Sistine Chapel where the voting takes place. A two-thirds majority is required for the election of a Pope, and the Cardinals continue to vote until this majority is obtained.

Immediately upon the election of the new Pope, he is attired in the traditional robes and goes to the balcony overlooking St. Peter's Square where he makes his first public appearance to the world. Any member of the church may serve, but since 1738 none but a Cardinal has been elected Pope. Following our Lord's example when he changed Simon's name to Peter, the Pope takes a new name when he is elected.

Everyone's days may be numbered—but some people live as if they were endless.

Dr. Roderick G. Langston to Speak Before Don Benito PTA January 26th

In response to the interest shown by Don Benito parents in the current teacher-demonstrated teaching techniques, the PTA is sponsoring Dr. Roderick G. Langston in six weekly Wednesday night meetings entitled "Education and Our Children." Dr. Langston is professor of education at Los Angeles State College. Former president of Eastern Oregon College, a state teachers college. He received his doctor's degree from Stanford University in 1948. In addition to his administrative work he has taught elementary school and is the author of many publications in the elementary field.

The committee headed by Mrs. Charles Cowen and members Mrs. Rodney Carley, Mrs. Joseph Schweppe, Mrs. Leon Roy, Mrs. William Taylor, Mrs. William Shiner and Mrs. Neal Rowley reported with much enthusiasm to the PTA board following a conference with Dr. Langston on the outline of his program.

The discussion groups will be held at Don Benito school on the following Wednesday nights at 8 p.m.: Jan. 26, Feb. 2, 9, 23 and March 2 and 9. Principal Richard Worden is urging attendance at this outstanding series of interest to all. The first two meetings will cover "The Development of Modern Education and Contrasting Theories of Education."

Of exceptional interest to all parents of Don Benito school is the series of panel discussions demonstrating the teaching techniques used in the basic subjects at each grade level. "Reading Through the Grades" was demonstrated by teachers Mrs. Carl F. Bernthal, kindergarten and first grades Mrs. Joseph Scroggs, second and third grades; Mrs. Hugh Comerford, fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

"Language Arts Through the Grades," showing how teaching techniques carry over and advance from year to year, was demonstrated by teachers Mrs. Ray J. Haworth, kindergarten and first grades; Mrs. Mary Dushman, second and third grades; and Mrs. Christine Erickson, fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Mrs. Francesca Belden, speech teacher representative for Don Benito school, covered major speech handicaps and the part they play in a child's advancement. The third panel "Arithmetic Through the Grades," will be coordinated through the grade levels by teachers Mrs. Marian Botsford, kindergarten, first and second grades; Mrs. Fay Ebrite, third and fourth grades, and Mr. Jarratt Brunson, fifth and sixth grades. Principal Mr. Richard Worden is serving as moderator for the series sponsored by the Don Benito PTA.

Tom Yeakle Heads Hastings Democrats

Thomas W. Yeakle, 830 Rim, an engineer, was re-elected president of the Hastings Ranch Democratic Club at its January meeting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl M. Shafer, 1335 Hastings Ranch Dr.

Allen Snyder, 2435 Orange Grove, was elected first vice president; William Allewelt, 1415 Tropical, second vice president; Harry Alper, 1155 Leonard, treasurer; Mrs. J. M. Jenkins, 1145 Leonard, recording secretary, and Mrs. Myron Slo-bodien, 1170 Medford, publications secretary.

As first vice president, Snyder also is program chairman, and Fred J. Elmhorst, 3655 Hampton, is membership chairman. Elmhorst also has been elected by the 48th Assembly District Council as a council delegate to the Los Angeles County Democratic Central Committee.

The next meeting of the group will be a party in February, the date and place to be announced soon.

Mary Stine Has Birthday Party

Friends met in the Al L. Pruitt home, 3810 Cartwright, to surprise Mrs. Mary M. Stine on her birthday. Mrs. Ralph A. Judd was co-hostess.

Among those arriving to take part in the afternoon's festivities were Mrs. Peter Tabahak, Mrs. Russell Denny, Mrs. William H. Hillard, Mrs. Robert W. Andrews, Mrs. Cecil W. Davis, Mrs. R. Stewart Melvannan, Mrs. Brooks Thomas and Mrs. Harvey Brown.

Mrs. Froese Speaks at Trinity Guild Luncheon

Mrs. Fay Froese, a medical missionary who is on furlough from her work in West India, was guest speaker at the January luncheon meeting Tuesday noon at Trinity Presbyterian Church Guild.

Circle 1 was hostess preparing and serving the luncheon. Mrs. J. Russell Delahooke was in charge of the program.

At a recent reorganization meeting, when circles were reshuffled, the former policy of naming the circles with Greek letters was dropped in favor of numbers. Where last year there were only four circles, there are now seven, three meeting for luncheon, and four meeting at night.

Meetings this month were as follows:

Circle 1, with Mrs. Wayne Barnes, 1145 Valley View, luncheon; Circle 2, with Mrs. George Baughman, 3810 Landfair, luncheon; Circle 3, with Mrs. Leroy Thomson, 3615 Greenhill, luncheon; Circle 4, with Mrs. Billings K. Rudbeck, 284 Arbolada, Arcadia; Circle 5, with Mrs. Horace Ray, 3690 Newhaven; Circle 6, with Mrs. Everett A. Bronze Star Medal For William Teir

Word has reached the Ranch that Lt. Col. William Teir has been awarded the Bronze Star medal for meritorious service in Korea. The Teirs formerly lived on Cartwright and are now stationed at Schofield Barracks in Honolulu. They recently took a 10-day sight-seeing trip to Kilauea Military Camp on the Island of Hawaii. Their dog, Queenie, is still in quarantine, because of being a "canine newcomer" to the Islands, but will be able to join the family next month.

Set Goal for Blood Bank at Field School

A drive for immediate donation of 50 pints of blood to the Eugene Field blood bank was announced today by Mrs. Gordon H. Doyle, 3790 Hampton, PTA chairman, with Field's ultimate goal for the year set at 71 pints on a 10 per cent membership basis of the participating organization.

Mrs. Doyle said that each year the bank must be rebuilt since all blood left at the end of the year is turned over to the Red Cross to be used for community civilian blood needs and the fractionation program for serums such as gamma globulin.

As a participating group, even though Field stocks are down now, members are entitled to use blood if they need it, to be repaid by the group. Mrs. Doyle, who has been vitally interested in the program since Field's opening in 1950, said that until recently it was one of only two schools in Pasadena with its own blood bank.

In announcing locations of the Red Cross Bloodmobile in the next few weeks where donors may go to contribute their share, Mrs. Doyle stressed that donors specify they are giving for Field as a participating group. She said they also will be given an individual credit card, which should be carried always, specifying the person's blood type and automatically entitling them to receive blood if needed.

But Mrs. Doyle stressed that the bank is for all Field families and should be used by them, whether or not they have donated. Some 20 Field families have made use of the bank since its inception, each using more than one pint of blood. Dates for donors are Monday, Jan. 24, Elks Club, 400 W. Colorado, 3-7 p.m.; Thursday, Jan. 27, San Marino Women's Club, 1800 Huntington Dr., 3-7:30 p.m.; Monday, Jan. 31, Temple City Women's Club, 5954 N. Kaufman, 3-7:30 p.m.

Russell D. Krauses Host Club Members

Mr. and Mrs. Russell D. Kraus, 1420 Valley View, were hosts to the members of the Paul Jones club of the Dale Carnegie classes. More than 30 guests arrived to enjoy the buffet supper.

Highlight of the evening's festivities was the arrival of "Swooper Man of 1867," who appeared all decked out in a bathing suit of that year. Following an extensive investigation the "creature" was identified as the host.

Women's Council Plan Dance Feb. 11

Arrangements are well under way for the annual Valentine's Dance, sponsored by the members of the Women's Council of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary Catholic church, slated for Friday, Feb. 11, at the Elk's clubhouse in Pasadena.

It has been announced that Al Sherman and his orchestra will supply the music for the gala affair.

The dance chairman, Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, Mrs. Thomas J. Rose and Mrs. Guy R. Knudson, will be assisted by Mrs. H. T. Kitchens, Mrs. W. G. Wiegand, Mrs. D. H. Munro and Mrs. J. W. Goodson.

The tickets for the event will be $3.00 a couple and reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Giangregorio at Custer 5-2547.

Jack Butler Undergoes Surgery at St. Luke

Jack Jackson Butler, who has worked for the Post Office since 1930, was taken to St. Luke Hospital Saturday evening for an emergency appendectomy. He had been ill for several days at his home, 180 E. Sierra Madre Blvd., thinking he had the "flu" until his doctor, M. H. A. Peterson, MD, diagnosed the case.

Butler is a mail carrier whose route is in the southern section of Sierra Madre, from Sierra Madre Blvd. to Orange Grove Ave., between Michillinda and Baldwin.

His condition following the operation was reported to be so good that he was up the next day at the hospital long enough to shave.

Local Water Works Employee Describes Industry's Start

By CARL S. REES

The early beginning of the water industry was fraught with a certain amount of hardship and danger.

There were actual fights over disputed water rights and well sites. Frequently these contested sites were guarded by men armed with shotguns to prevent would be intruders from encroaching upon their water sites.

On the local scene near the turn of the century, a group of ranchers began locating in the fertile valley East of the San Gabriel Mission.

These early settlers hauled their supplies by wagon teams from the sprawling pueblo of Los Angeles to their newly acquired water lands East of the San Gabriel river.

One of these early ranchers by the name of Smith, started drilling for water. Others contested Smith's water site, with the result that Smith stood guard over his well with a shot gun.

It was said that on two occasions a "shotgun argument" ensued between the would be intruders and Smith, who finally put them to rout.

The neighboring settlers called the place "Smith's Fort", and today the modern pump-house standing on this site and owned by the San Dimas Water Co. is still called their Fort Smith Plant.

Many of the first wells drilled were artesian flows; at certain places underground the subterranean pressures were great enough to force water up from a few feet to many feet above ground.

From these flowing artesian wells located near the foothills, water ran by gravity flow through wooden pipelines to the redwood tanks or cement and stone storage reservoirs where it was again piped to various ranches for domestic use.

The balance of the water was run into large uncovered aqueduct basins for irrigation use. From these storage basins water ran in wooden flumes along the roadways to the ranches.

It was from these flumes that the early ranchers took water into their open ditches to irrigate the first orange, lemon, walnut groves and fields of verdant alfalfa.

Toastmasters Club Selects Best Speaker

Elmer Steinkuhler, guest speaker from Santa Anita, is the winner of the "best speaker" award of the Sierra Madre Toastmasters club, Robert Rosenast, president, announced. Steinkuhler delivered a humorous treatment on perfume advertising.

Other award winners in the competition held recently at Zucca's restaurant in Pasadena were William Pott, Jr., adjudged "most improved speaker" for his humorous talk on the recent Tournament of Roses; Robert Milo for "best table topic" and Donald McKenna for "best evaluation."

Robert Eastman was toastmaster of the evening.

Marc Yasskin to Take Bar Mitzvah

Marc Yasskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Yasskin, 391 N. Auburn, will become Bar Mitzvah next Saturday morning, Jan. 22, at the Foothill Jewish Community Center, 212 N. Lima St.

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel and Cantor George David will officiate.

Bar Mitzvah, one of the most important ceremonies in the Jewish religion, means that the youth, having passed his 13th birthday Jan. 18, is now eligible for the confirmation service through which he assumes the responsibilities of manhood and pledges himself to the standards of his family and religion.

Immediately following the ceremony at the Center, at about noon, Mr. and Mrs. Yasskin will entertain approximately 200 people at a luncheon in Marc's honor. During the evening of the same day he will be host to 16 friends at a post-birthday party at his home.

Exchange Club Meets With New Officers

The first regular dinner meeting in 1955 of the Exchange Club of Sierra Madre was held last Thursday evening at Carpenter's Restaurant in Arcadia. Arnold Rogstad, new president, presided. The meeting was attended by twenty-five members and one guest, Bob Michael of Arcadia Investments.

Mr. Michael was presented by member Gale Hersey. Past president Ralph Burns thanked the members for presenting him with a diamond lapel pin in appreciation of his services in his term of office. President Rogstad appointed the committees and committee chairmen for the new year.

The meeting was concluded with a sound motion picture in color, "The New Paul Bunyon", which depicts the story of the pioneer of reforestation throughout the U.S., the newer concepts of the proper manner of timber cutting, the milling of logs and the use of scraps in the manufacture of by-products. Practically 100 per cent of a tree is now used. The picture was produced by the manufacturers of Meyerhauser Wood Products.

The meeting scheduled for tonight will bring the members a movie called "Play Ball with the Cardinals" taken at the Cardinal training camp.

The Exchange Club will assist the V.F.W. and Civic Women's Club in Sierra Madre's Special Event being presented at the Women's Club Jan. 29 for the March of Dimes.

School Board Member To Be Guest Speaker

Mrs. Nettie Jacobs, a member of the Sierra Madre School Board, will be the guest speaker on the Adult Education program Tuesday, Jan. 15, according to Dr. Charles W. Steckel, spiritual leader of the Foothill Jewish Community Center. The program, beginning at 8:15 p. m., will be held at the Center, 212 N. Lima St.

Mrs. Jacobs' subject will be "Attitude to Religion in the Public School." Refreshments will be served and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Huntington to Show Famous Franklin Work

In recognition of National Printing Week, the Huntington Library has placed on exhibit 10 rare Benjamin Franklin items which it has just added to its collections. Recently acquired from the collection of the late Arthur Bloch, they have been added to the library's already extensive Franklin material which already included 144 items printed by Franklin.

Eight of the little volumes and a broadsheet were all from the presses of America's most famous printer. Of especial interest and perhaps rarest of all is the single sheet, printed on both sides, which Franklin printed on his little private press in Passy, France, in his later years, when he was Minister Plenipotentiary to France. Headed, "In Congress, May 2, 1780," is a sheet of "Instructions to the Captains and Commanders of Private Armed Vessels Which Shall Have Commissions or Letters of Marque and Reprisal."

Included also in the exhibit is the last volume, except those issued from Passy, to bear Franklin's name on its title page. One of only 500 copies issued, it is a poem by T. Letworth entitled "A Morning and Evening's Meditation," printed in Philadelphia in 1766.

The exhibit may be seen between 1 and 4:30 every day except Mondays during the remainder of January. Reservations in advance are no longer necessary except for large groups.

Charles Fretz Moves Into Executive Job

Promotions for 18 Schering Corp. men, including Charles H. Fretz, Sierra Madre, as Los Angeles Divisional Manager, have been announced by the New Jersey prescription-drug firm following a three-day conference in Ashbury Park, N. J. to brief the new appointees on the streamlined sales organization.

The re-organization groups the sales force into Eastern, Central and Western Regions under new managers and sets up 15 Divisions reporting to them.

Effective Jan. 1, the appointments were announced by Schering's Domestic Sales Manager Herman W. Leitzow, who said the reorganization was "aimed at bringing management and field sales forces closer together and at streamlining our expanding operations through decentralization and increased field authority."

The new executives were guests of Schering at the three-day conference, at The Hotel Berkeley-Carteret, during which they were briefed on the new organizational structure.

In 1654 Thomas Roycroft published a Polyglot Bible which gave the text in Hebrew, Latin, Greek, Chaldean, Syriac, Arabic, Samaritan, Persian and Ethiopic.

State Lists Nineteen More Jobs in January

Nineteen additional January job opportunities in the California state government have been announced by the State Personnel Board.

New civil service examinations and their application deadlines are:

January 13—Dentist, salary range $530 to $644 a month; senior dentist, $676 to $821; nursing education consultant, $395 to $481.

January 14—Delineator, $341 to $415; dietitian, $295 to $358; neuropathology technician, $325 to $395; offset process camera-man, $3.29 to $4.17 hour; chief engineer, I, $376 to $438; chief engineer, II, $415 to $505.

January 18—Psychiatric nurse, $310 to $358; senior psychiatric nurse, $325 to $395; supervising psychiatric nurse, $358 to $481.

January 28—Printing plant machinist, $2.88 to $3.27 hour; instructor in agriculture, $376 to $530; assistant actuary, State Employees' Retirement System, $613 to $745; kindergarten teacher and teacher of cerebral palsied children, $341 to $530.

Application forms may be obtained at personnel board offices in Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles and at all Department of Employment offices.

In 1631, Barker and Lucas printed the so-called "wicked bible," which derived its name from a typographical error in which the word "not" was left out of the 7th commandment. They were fined the equivalent of $12,000.

FIRE FLAMES

By JAMES HEASLEY

Writing a column that is limited to one subject calls for repetition. Repeating over and over of the danger of fire, however, it cannot be overdone. Being mixed up in a habit with his nibs and if once or twice the same material is used, the reader can understand, we hope.

It is felt that the continuous warnings of what can happen are necessary to prevent neglect. When accumulations of materials that will burn are permitted disastrous results are bound to occur sooner or later. It is most difficult to impress people that although a pile of dry trim, leaves, paper boxes and that sort of material may not "take off", it adds greatly to a fire that reaches them. Fortunately, we have been on the job in time to prevent that major fire. Everything that can add to a fire once started, means just that much more heat that requires more fire fighting. The firemen take their work seriously and plead with residents to do everything possible to avoid that dreaded major fire.

Few realize that most fires are started from just a little heat. A cigarette has started many. The cigarette simmers until a small light article nearby develops a flame. With no one present, this reaches a large flame and the trouble can be serious. Children and mothers have lost their lives. Homes have been burned.

This particularly applies to those who fail to heed the warning about smoking in bed. Mattresses are very susceptible to fire. A cigarette in the hands of a person in bed can drop from the fingers of that person when he falls asleep. That's when the smoke can overcome the sleeper. When flame develops, that's the end of another tragic story. So why does one smoke in bed?

The Christmas activities of the firemen and their wives required much time and work. With one thousand stockings to cut, sew and fill, that meant a lot of advanced preparations. The cutting of the stockings from the rolled netting would require tiresome scissor work were it not for the kindness and effort of those willing men at the local tie factory. We can't express our appreciation to them enough. Each year they have been doing this tedious job for us. Our own fire ladies do the sewing and they too, are much appreciated.

MALE DRIVERS IN UNITED STATES

Two-thirds of all United States males over thirteen years of age are drivers, according to the National Automobile Club.

The Answers to Everyday Insurance Problems — By HARRY A. LANGE

QUESTION: It's about time for me to renew my auto insurance. I've been paying an increased rate because our son is only 19 and he sometimes drives our car. Now he's in the service and comes home only now and then. Do I still have to pay the higher rate? My son does drive our car when he is at home.

ANSWER: You pay the lower rate. For insurance rating purposes the National Automobile Underwriters Association has stated that persons under 25 but in the Armed Services shall not be considered residents of the insured's household unless they are close to home and drive the car regularly.

School Children to Attend Free Symphony

Music chosen to appeal to young listeners will be played by the Pasadena Symphony orchestra, Lauris Jones conducting, Sunday afternoon at the Pasadena Junior League Youth Concert held at the Civic Auditorium beginning at 3 o'clock. Many students from Sierra Madre schools, as in the past, are expected to attend.

The one hour concert will be presented free of charge to all eight-to-13-year old children in the San Gabriel Valley. There will be no reserved seats, but doors will be opened at 2:30 p.m.

Trees and Chemicals

A prominent Forestry man predicts that in another decade a wood chemical industry will thrive entirely on raw materials which loggers are now compelled to leave behind them in the woods; together with the scrap lumber, sawdust and shavings developed in sawmilling.

A large paper company in the Northwest, with 780 square miles of forest lands managed for perpetual harvest, not only makes a great variety of paper products, but as a side line is also producing quantities of chemical products from the liquid runoff.

Perhaps in 20 years our products may be listed as "Cellulose and Lumber!"

Ground Breaking Ceremonies Held Today for New Building

Pasadena's Mayor Winder, local civic and business leaders, and top executives of Allstate Insurance Company and Sears Roebuck and Co., today took part in ground breaking ceremonies for Allstate's $1,000,000 office building on Sierra Madre Villa Ave., in Pasadena. The ceremonies were followed by a luncheon at the Huntington-Sheraton hotel.

Among those participating in the ceremonies were Calvin Fentress, Jr., president of Allstate, Judson B. Branch, senior vice president, E. A. Frederick, Pacific Coast Zone vice president, C. J. Weiss, assistant vice president and resident manager of the company's Los Angeles Branch office, A. T. Cushman, vice president of Sears Roebuck and Company, D. R. LaMotte, Pasadena Sears store manager, and A. J. Hay, Pasadena Chamber of Commerce president.

The new building will be occupied by the company's Los Angeles branch office now located at 111 W. 7th St., Los Angeles. The office will continue to serve policyholders residing in Los Angeles and in the counties of Ventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo, Kern, San Bernardino and Riverside.

The Pasadena site is an eight acre tract on Sierra Madre Villa Ave., approximately 200 feet south of East Orange Grove Ave. E. A. Frederick, Pacific Coast Zone vice president, announced that the building initially will house 350 employees. There will be room for additional personnel as Allstate's expansion continues. Off-the-street parking for 300 cars will be provided with ultimate provision for 460 cars.

"Fritz" Roess Taken By Surprise Saturday

Ten employees from Roess Market, led by Red Burr, took Frederick "Fritz" Roess by surprise Saturday when they called on him at his home, 261 Adams, to wish him a happy 71st birthday.

Roess, whose son, David, now owns the store, later was presented with his wife's portrait recently painted by Bea Ward Melvor, prominent Sierra Madre artist. Those who attended the latter occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Percy Kortkamp, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Topping, Mr. and Mrs. Al Wheeling, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bartman, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cox.

Scanning the Sports Scene

By BOB BROGGER

Why did Pasadena High lose to Muir? (This concerns the first game of their civil war series.)

Was it the players fault that they couldn't stop the strong Muir offense? Or was it because Pasadena, after hearing what the odds were for Muir, became discouraged and just knew they were going to get beat? (Muir was favored by at least 20 points.)

Throw all these questions aside, for in this writer's opinion, Pasadena's coach Leonard Yandle was partly to blame for the loss.

Now here's the reason we picked Yandle for this award. His Pasadena Bulldogs were behind the Muir squad by 10 or 12 points with 5 minutes left to play the game. And guess what he does? In comes a couple reserves off the bench, for Aguilar and Hall. And then a couple minutes later he sends Chet Bias another reserve in for the one and only guy who kept Pasadena in the game—Jerry Warnick.

Now naturally, anybody will tell you that the game was far from being over, and that Pasadena might've won with a little rally had not Yandle taken out his star players.

longs, respectively point up the $100,000-guaranteed-to-win Santa Anita Handicap on Feb. 26, and the $100,000-added Santa Juan Capistrano Handicap on the grass on March 5, and the $50,000 filly-mare special, The Santa Marguerita, on Feb. 5, as one of the big Charity Week features.

The candidates are already lining up for the 8th running of the estimated $165,000 Santa Anita Maturity on Saturday, Jan. 29, of next week with the meeting of Determined, Duke's Lea and Correlation, among others, the big attraction.

Rich and attractive overnight features will be run during this fourth week in the name of the Lions Clubs, Chino, and Old English Ranch of Chino today; Palm Springs, Ventura County Fair and Brookside Park on Friday; and North Hollywood Saturday.

A promise is a small outlay intended to pay large returns.

RAINS—

perties there from rushing waters, a problem concerning movable planks to be used across driveways has arisen.

One of the residents there, Mrs. Ruth E. Clayton, 414 N. Lima, has expressed her gratitude to city officials—to Councilman Harold Roberts and City Administrator Lawrence Bevington in particular—for the flood protection that so far has been accomplished, but many residents say they find the "movable" planks too heavy to move.

Also, some residents say they were under the impression that they were not to touch the planks. Reports from City Hall, however, indicate that placing the wooden barriers across the driveways in time of storm is the responsibility of the citizens who are expected to cooperate with one another for the job.

Last Tuesday during the heavy rains certain women and widows in residences along the street found the plank-moving job too much for them. As a result, several men from the Street Department placed the 2x12 planks across driveways to fill the chain of protection formed by the other wooden barriers along the street.

In the meantime, if it still remains the responsibility of the residents to do the job, the women of that section are wondering what arrangements can be made whereby they can meet rainstorm emergencies when their husbands are away from work.

The answer, according to city reports, is that the residents should work it out through neighborly cooperation.

In the event of a sudden, heavy rain city employees will be so busy with many emergency duties that much damage could be done before they could install the driveway planks.

Local Red Cross Sets Annual Dinner Date

The annual dinner meeting of the Sierra Madre chapter of the American Red Cross will be held Monday, beginning at 6:30 p.m., at the Woman's Clubhouse.

The principal speaker on the program will be Harold Davis, national field representative for the Red Cross, who will tell of his experiences as a Red Cross field director in Korea during the first year of the war there.

Reservations are priced at $1.80 per person, and the public is invited.
